

THE GOVERNMENT: "Support good governance, rights and interests of Aboriginal Peoples."	THE PEOPLE: "Individual, family and community well-being for First Nations and Inuit."	THE LAND AND ECONOMY: "Full participation of First Nations, Métis, Non-Status Indians and Inuit individuals and communities in the economy."	THE NORTH: "Self-reliance, prosperity and well-being for the people and communities of the North."
--	--	--	--

Data Collection Instruments Aligned with Determinants of Well-being

Healthy Child Development	Physical Environments	Culture	Health Services	Personal Health Practices and Coping Skills	Social Environments	Social Support Networks	Biology and Genetic Endowment	Gender	Education	Employment/ Working Conditions	Income and Social Status
---------------------------	-----------------------	---------	-----------------	---	---------------------	-------------------------	-------------------------------	--------	-----------	--------------------------------	--------------------------

Comprehensive Community Plans and Nation Rebuilding Plans Aligned with Determinants of Well-being

First Nations' Information Management Systems, Policies and Procedures: reporting on community well-being define and administer workflows to effectively manage resources, collect data, protect data and people, reduce errors, minimize risk and facilitate ease of reporting and data sharing	Federal Information Management Systems, Policies and Procedures: reporting on spending authorities access to timely, pertinent, consistent and accurate information that supports planning/policy, resource allocation, programming decisions, and monitoring/oversight required to fulfill accountability, legal and statutory obligations
---	--

Deploy Existing Systems in all First Nations

Refine and Align Data Collection Instruments

Develop Regional and National Portals

DATA COLLECTION POLICIES AND PROCEDURES: Efficient, effective, and innovative information technology (IT) is a key enabler to achieving well-managed information in support of policies, programs, and services.

- AANDC will make reasonable efforts to ensure that data collection is cost effective and sustainable for both transfer payment recipients and the Department.
- AANDC will make reasonable efforts to ensure that the data collected is reliable, accurate and trustworthy.
- AANDC will provide electronic forms and technologies for all data collection instruments.

BC FIRST NATIONS DATA GOVERNANCE INITIATIVE INPUT - DATA COLLECTION AND REPORTING STANDARDS

Determinants of Well-being

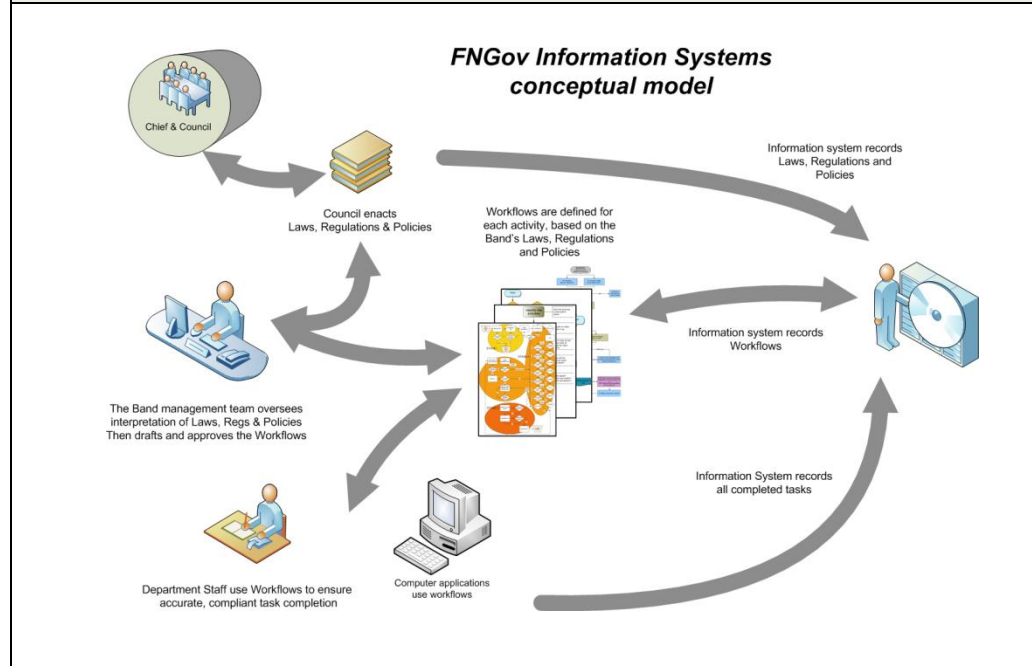

Healthy Child Development	Physical Environments	Culture	Health Services	Personal Health Practice	Social Environments	Social Support Networks	Biology and Genetic Endowment	Gender	Education	Employment/ Working Conditions	Income and Social Status
----------------------------------	------------------------------	----------------	------------------------	---------------------------------	----------------------------	--------------------------------	--------------------------------------	---------------	------------------	---------------------------------------	---------------------------------

Data Collection and Sharing (Access and Possession) Principles:

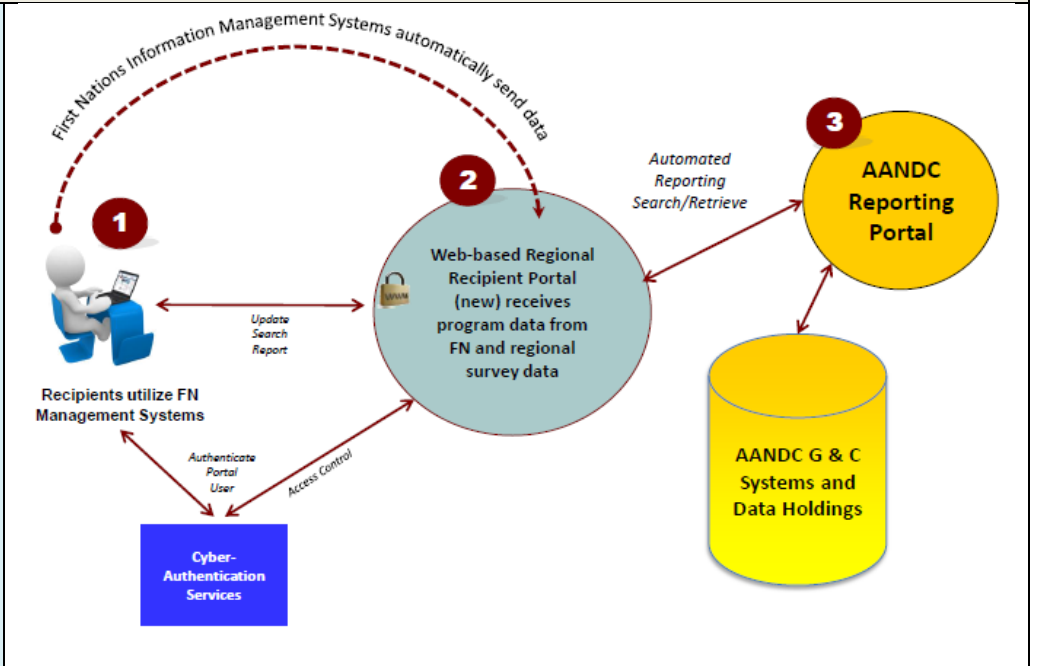

FN Governments:	FN Organizations:	Provincial Government:	Federal Government:
------------------------	--------------------------	-------------------------------	----------------------------

Reporting Principles:

Reporting on community well-being	Reporting on spending authorities
--	--

Data Governance (Ownership and Control) Principles:

Data Storage Principles: